The mail edition of the Daily Press will be issued to-morrow at 7 a.m., and will contain full particulars to the latest outbreak in Tientsin. It is requested that orders for extra copies be sent to.

Tis much to be demonted that so much talent as that which undoubtedly characteriscs much of the writing in the Cucle, should he marred by the unscrupulous manner in which facts are habitually distorted by that being the back, so that he could not identify journal, in order to make inatters appear in a light favourable to those, whose views, as is well known, it is paid to advocate. There had reperted about 11.30 p.m. the arrival of a can be no harmain the Chinese officials. baying, through the means of their representative Mr. HART, an organ-to set forth their ideas; and if this were honestly and decently done, it would no doubt tend to the elucidation of truth. But, unfortunately, when articles are written not to give utterance to opinions which, though erroneous, are sinject of conveying views which the writers themselves must be fully aware are false, Manila man, and two Indiane Kytellingham no one can do otherwise than lament that | and Suffey Ally, It was about four a to, when be talent should be thus prostituted to the propagation of the most pernicious error.

It is not surprising that, with reference to the Tientsin outbreak, the Cycle should endeavour to make the best of the case for the Chinese. Half the arguments which it has found from one of the windows, the mpe proadvanced were as well known as coming ducid, hanging to the ground, and also forward, as are the must obvious points on This circumstance be reported without delay one side or the other of a legal case, when Counsel rise to address the Court. It would be impossible to crain more falsehood into as many words. There is infinitely more than this in avidencechiefly and most unquestionably, the utter neglect of Chun How to take the mecessary precautions to avert the outbreak-while it is clearly shown that the outbreak itself was not a popular attack, but the result of a carefully matured plot, in which there is no holders in $200 each to be forthcoming within doubt many of the leading officials twelve months; in default, case to be brought were implicated. After stating a fulsehood in general terms-but one eminently calculated to mislead readers away from China, who have not the opportunity of thoroughly investigating the facts-the Cycle tells lialf the truth in detail. It assumes garden, the property of Kum Afoon, at 4 a.m. that "presence from outside" was brought on Angust 2nd. to bear on the mol, notwithstanding that the massacre was a " popular attack"; it also admits that some officials have acquired "an abstract objection to foreigners in the country." Now an abstract expection to foreigners in the country when it takes the been registered when the summons was taken concrete form of butchering them, is not quite such a light matter as it is desired to make out, especially when there is almost overwhelming avidence that this "dislike" has been carefully fostered by the officials. But one acknowledgement made in the article under notice is quite sufficient to show the speciousness of the arguments, it contains. MEMORANDUM FROM SIR RUTHER-FORD ALCOCK ON THE PROPOSED CONVENTION.

(Concluded)

The objections of the Memorialists have ndeed been concentrated on that part of the new system which deals with imports. Insamuch as they foresee a prospect of great benefit from the mode proposed of dealing with he exports, and have nothing to pay or to visk in return, they have apparently thought it unnecessary to offer any comment. Whereas, with regard to imports, their chief objection n the fact that a payment of the transit dut of 24 per cent. beretofore optional, is now mide compulsory and is not, in their opinion accompanied by any sufficient accurity for the protection promised. english and chinese dictionary PUNTI AND MANDARIN PRONUNCIATION: An Anglo-Chinese Dictionary, by the Rev. W. LOBSCHEID, published at the Daily Press Office, Hongkong.

MOR scope and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been com- [1914. pelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are hero given in extenso. Each and every word is cises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given, the accenta being carefully marked on he best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore characterized Chinese publications, The scope of the work is so great, and its ntilitarian purposes so complete, that a re-ference to its pages enables a person who understands English to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect the work will be found indispensable to all Europeans residing in China, and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully, with which very few in-deed of them are perfectly acquainted. To parties resident in England and interested in China it cannot but be invaluable occasionally:

It comprises upwards of two thousand lurge TRUBNER & Co., 60. PATERNOSTER ROW. W. H. BELL,

DIRECTORS:

That temporary abelition of the judical faculty which simurchiately follows apon beorjug the particulars of an atroolons crims is a consequence of the involuntary impulses of a generous nature. We mpidly sum up the miseries of the victims and we loudly call for vengeance. Upon whom punishment is to be he inflicted is for the moment a question of secondary importance. The crime stands out pre-eminent and alone, weare morally convinced lat there was no cause for it that there can be no possible justification or publishion of it, and Thos. Hunt & Co. Apply to all we desire in to see somebody made answer. T. S. HOOK, SON & Co. n'i we desire in to nee somebody made answer able for it and forced to explate it so far as personal suffering can atoue for the commission of foul wrong. But with time comes reflection, and instead of clamouring for vengenace, we demand caroful and minute investigation. It is natural that, first we should abandon our habitual calmness, but as reason resumes ber away we are gradually led to admit that evidence has to be examined and weighed. and that while it is corontial that the guilty shall pay the penalty of their crimes, and the caroless or timid pay the penalty of their neg-ligence or cowardice, it is no less ossential that those who have been guiltless shall be acquitted and reinstated in whatever estimation they hefore enjoyed. Few will deny that the position of a judge is more dignified that of a violent partizan. Integrity is his portion and proper virtue, and that he may plant his judgment as upon even ground, he should howeve of hard constructions and forced inferences. So Hicon describes the attitude of a judge, and the sooner we assume this position with regard to any facts whatecever, the sconer shall we arrive at a just decision. Oriminal courts are unfortunately o too often occupied in the investigation of 'crimes the possibility of which makes us doubt whether bumnnity is an advance upon the organisation of what we call the lower animals, yet the tribunals that excefully sift every scrap of testimony that can be collected from far and near are not commonly stignistised He "oyulcal, servile and cownrdly." Nor when they demand proof that such or such a person is a murderer are they usually said to " plead the cause of the assassin." This however is the language used by certain persons with regard THE Commedicus Residence known as Elto those who still maint in a position of | I gin House, in Caine Road West, formerly expectancy, awaiting full evidence before they pass a vardict of guilty upon all those at present charged with complicity in the Tientein outrage. We regret that one or two violent writers in the search for popularity should so damage our common cause. They do not represent the common some of the community whose members are now, after an interval of excitement, anxious not for indiscriminate slaughter or for inflammutory comments upon past events, but for the discovery of all the facts nearly or remotely bearing on the case. ...

And this we meanine as our position. We latve already indicated certain causes which no doubt operated upon the common people of Tientein and rendered a usually inoffensive com | KINSON & Co. Apply to munity prone to be instigated to acts of almos-that the ineligators of the outrage were men of vast influence, but men whose position was such that they had everything to gain and THE very desirable Business PREMISES nothing to lose from the destruction of foreigners. All that there is up to the present in and Wellington Street, at present occupied by dire results. We justly assume that pressure DOUGLAS-LAPHAIK & Co. dire results. We justly assume that pressure from outside was brought to bust upon the meb, and we then meet the great question of motive which is utterly lost sight of by those who now endeavour to pander to feelings which the same persons are diligently striving to call into existence. There are certain natives who once held lucrative offices from which they have been removed, or who have failed to secure due recognition of their real or funcied merits, or who finally have conceived an abstract objection to the presence of foreigner; in the country, that are in opposition to the policy now pursued at Peking. and are anxious to gratily a spite against foreigners even supposing the attainment of their wishes should convulse the empire to its very centre. It is not unreasonable to suppose in their own Boats, and to receive the same on that this last contingency may be one of the btorage in first class GRANTEE GODOWNS most powerful motives, if not actually the most on moderate terms; powerful. Now it would be vain to attempt to conceal the fact that such a party exists in China; and moreover is a very influential one. Amongst its numbers the persons. really guilty of the Tientain massacre are than folly to bring a sweeping charge against all the officials or all the literary men, as if those who are in office are not above air things interested in maintaining the status quo. For it is to be remembered that the presence of foreigners at a port necessitates a large and well remunerated staff of native officials whose position and revenues depend upon foreigners. After an event many previous circumstances are remembered that seem to have pointed to it, but these circumstances are really only important so far as they undoubtedly led to actual apprehension. We likewise apply the test of motive to the charge of criminal negligence brought against the magistrates at Tieptain, and while we acknowledge that after the massacre it appeared that precautions might have been taken supposing the design to have been known, we must likewise confess that no body of persons could have been more diectly interested in preventing a popular demonstration againt foreigners than the officials employed in the district at the time. Our demand is therefore for punishment-punishment of the most marked character, such punishment as will make the cars of all who bear of it tingle, but previous trial and investigation. If it should take twenty years to ferret out the guilty, that twenty years will be well spent if it assures us that no one implicated in the orime shall escape. No loss antisfactory ought it to be if the more tedious the investigation the less should be chance o punishment falling on the innocent. " The mills the Lord grind slowly, but they grind exceed-Let us drag truth from the bowels of the earth, but let us be at least certain that we have got hold of it:

So much upon general principles. It is really lamentable that so many persons ignorant of everything that should qualify them to lead public spinion, should yet set themselves up us guides in the discussion of important questions. If any one species of ignorance is more remarkable than another in the productions of writers for the local press, it is ignorance of the law of nations. We can all feel horror at un outrage, and we can all in one way or another express that horror. But when discussion passes this point, the writers lose themselves in a maze of chandity and observity. We state the case in the brondest and simplest manner possible when wasnay that up to the time when the Freich demands for reparation shall be considered and decided upon by the Chinese, there will be he ground whatsover for war. To-talk about war now, to advise it as the one necessary solution, is mere folly. A grievous wrong has who are suilty in the first degree must be discovered and made examples of. Those who are guilty in the second degree-whose real or neserted negligence permitted what the others caused must be punished each according to his guilt. Their said property will have to be made good, and finally it is probable that a material quarantee for the future will be demanded. With regard to the first three points there !will be no difficulty. If the latter enters into the French demands it may be such as will be readily granted, or it may be such as no state could grant unless forced to do so. In this latter case, and in this only, war would of course be the final solution, but it may be anticipated that while all reasonable concessions will be made without other than diplomatic interference. France will not endervour to force dra Terrace. mossires upon the Chinese government which under nimitar circumstance would in Europe: be held to be unreasonable. It may be that another and final war with China will eventually provo inevitable. At any rate we are told so often enough. But whatever the ultimate benefits of a war might To, we have to anticipate immediate stagnation of trade—the importation of a new cloment of ruin into the already sufficiently ruinous fabrin, intion. of quatern commerce.

How TO MAKE COFFEE. -- Mr. Ward Beecher's recipe for making coffee is as suggestive in it is Brocherish? "The best way I know of to
